College Student Dating Violence

One in three College Students has experienced violence in a dating relationship.

The Dating Contract indicates what is unacceptable behavior and the consequences for violence and abuse.

Statistics indicate same sex relationships have the same frequency of domestic violence as opposite sex relationships. Use he or she as it applies in your situation.

College Student DATING CONTRACT

Dating College Students must have a parent/adult relative/teacher/counselor/responsible adult present to discuss abuses and consequences.

Both parties may stop seeing each other at anytime for any reason. This relationship will be immediately terminated for any abuses and criminal charges reported for any physical/sexual abuse or threats. A Restraining Order will also be requested.

Physical Abuse: Violence which may or may not result in an injury from beating, biting, choking, grabbing, hitting, kicking, punching, pulling hair, pushing, punching, restraining, scratching, shaking, shoving, slapping, twisting, arms, using weapons, spanking, smothering, tripping, holding against will, and/or any other physical contact which may present a physical or emotional injury, etc.

Sexual Abuse: Makes partner do sexual acts against her will, touching, kissing, hugging/holding, forced sex, attacks the private parts of her body.

Verbal Abuse: Name calling, yelling insults, being sarcastic, threatening violence to her and/or children.

Emotional Abuse: Put downs, name calling, belittling, insults, blowing money on drugs or alcohol, being drunk/high, intense jealousy, criticizing her looks, making accusations regarding love affairs, keeps her from going to school/work, threatens, laughs at her all the time, ignores her, uses mind games, makes her think she is crazy, threatens physical violence and retaliation.

A safety, protection, and escape plan should be developed by dating College Students.

These acts will be reported to the police immediately and the victim must seek safety and protection away from the batterer/abuser until his arrest.

College Students should not have possession or access to any weapons.

Communicating
Take your time to find out about your dating partner's values, hobbies, goals, likes, dislikes, and personality.

A strong predictor of violence is your dating partner's involvement with delinquent peers, gang membership, and drug/alcohol use & abuse.

Group activities are usually a safe way to learn about your dating partner.

Dating and communicating can turn into Separating and breaking-up for good

You should not have to be afraid to break-up with your dating partner.
Breaking-up is a life experience that most of us go through.

Make sure you are safe when breaking-up

These are safety notification guidelines for all levels of breaking-up in a relationship:

- If you feel unsafe, try never to be left alone.
- Have a relative/friend with you at all times.
- Make sure your relatives/friends know about your break-up.
- Whenever possible notify your dating partner's relatives/friends.
- Be aware of your surroundings and who's watching (stalking) you.
- Pay attention to your dating partner's reaction to the breakup.
- 911 and a Restraining Order should always be considered for your safety.
- Consider changing your telephone numbers/e-mail.

Safety Notification Levels of Breaking-Up in a Relationship

Level One: In-Person Notification

Dating partner has never exhibited any forms of violence or abuse.
1. Break-up in a public place.
2. Friends/relatives should be present/nearby/available.
Level Two: Telephone Notification

1. Your dating partner has not exhibited any forms of violence or abuse but may get very angry about the break-up.
2. You don't want to see him in person because you think he may become verbally abusive.

Level Three: E-Mail/Text Postal Notification

Your dating partner has a history of verbal and emotional abuse but has never exhibited any violence or physical abuse.
Level Four: Restraining Order Notification
If your dating partner has exhibited any of the following:

1. Your dating partner has a history of violence and abuse.
2. Has a prior history of being arrested/convicted of violence and/or has ever had a Restraining Order against him.

Do not return home/college/dorm until your dating partner is served and has appeared in court.

If your boyfriend violates the Restraining Order, don't return home until he is arrested, prosecuted, and serving time in custody.
There is no excuse for dating violence, or abuse.
